Expectations for the SET: I expected this operation to basically go well with a few glitches. Our people are more experienced and have several of these under their belts.

What Occured Pretty much as I expected.

What Went Well and Why: all modes were effective and operated as expected. Mainly due to experienced operators. The more experienced ones were more at ease with the traffic handling.

Improving Operation and How: Newer operators need to slow down when passing voice traffic. They also need to learn more about directed net protocol. It was a bit wild at times.
